Car Shuffle: From the rendezvous / morning tea location, a car shuffle is required to convey all participants to the start of the walk from the High Lead carpark adjacent to the Powelltown – Noojee Rd about 11 km from Powelltown, with sufficient vehicles left at the Public Hall to take drivers back to the High Lead CP at the end of the walk.

Walk Details: From the High Lead carpark the walk follows a part of the 'Walk into History' trail in the Yarra State Forest. Much of the route is along the formation of a substantive three-foot gauge steel railed timber tramway dating from the second decade of the twentieth century. The first 4 km runs alongside the headwaters of the La Trobe River which is crossed and recrossed, mainly via bridges of recent origin. The trail then rises to cross the divide between the watersheds of the La Trobe and Little Yarra rivers, termed 'The Bump'. From here the trail follows the latter river, crossing it a couple of times. The final section back to the start point is via several streets in the hamlet of Powelltown.

There is one stream crossing via steppingstones or a moss-covered log, and a few short steep descents and climbs which can be slippery when wet. Prepare for mud so good walking shoes plus poles and gaiters if you have them.
